New Voters League Holds Discussion Meeting

Mrs. Lewis, after her talk at Convocation on Thursday, remained on campus and was present at the regular meeting of the New Voters League. This was held in their parlor at four thirty.

The program had to do with the activities of the League. The first discussion, led by Miss Margaret Gillette, was of the history of the organization.

Clarisse Ellis next spoke on the accomplishments of the body in different parts of the country. She is from Utah and this is well fitted to bring diversity of environment into her views.

Winifred West followed with a paper on welfare work and aims of the League. Some of them, she stated, were child labor, maternity and protection of delinquent children. After this Clarisse Ellis spoke again, this time of public welfare work in regard to education. Marion Sumner and Nora Lee Antrim talked on sub-topics of this subject.

Later there was a general discussion on the League of Nations and the World Court, and the aim of the League, to be "a parliament" rather than "non-partisan" was expressed.

The meeting adjourned after the subject for next time, "The Candidates of the Political Parties," was announced.

KATHERINE LITTLE TO HEAD SOPHOMORE SHOW

Katherine Little was elected to head the Sophomore Show at a class meeting held Wednesday night February 1st.

The nominees who were named at a previous meeting of the class were voted on, and Katherine Little was elected to head the Show. She will appoint committees who will work with her, and plans for the performance will be begun immediately. The show will be presented sometime in the spring. The date has not been definitely decided upon, and try-outs will be held very soon for those Sophomores wishing to take part in it.

Katherine has demonstrated her ability along this line in several performances since she has been at Sweet Briar, and the Sophomores feel confident that their choice was a wise one.

Alumnae Campaign Is Now Well Under Way

Miss Margaret Banister, 16, of Washington, D. C., General Chairman of the Alumnae Campaign for Sweet Briar's Endowment and Building Fund, and National President of the Alumnae Association, arrived at Sweet Briar Tuesday evening.

Miss Banister announces the enlistment of the Area Chairmen for four of the six areas into which the alumnae have been divided. They are: Miss Margaret McDevie, 18, of Richmond, for the Virginia Area; Mrs. Jack Hoover (Rebecca Stout, 16), of Raleigh, N. C., for the Southern Area; Mrs. Eppa Hisey, Jr. (Dorothy Meyers, ex-'24), of Terrace Park, Ohio, for the Central Area; and Miss Ruth Lowrance, 27, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, for the South-western Area.

These area chairmen will be responsible for the organization of the alumnae within their area; they will be assisted in their work by four Field Directors.

In speaking of the Alumnae Campaign, Miss Banister said, "Judging from the Washington Alumnae to whom I have talked, I should say that the alumnae will go into it with enthusiasm. They are all excited and ready to start in. I feel sure that we are to succeed in raising the money."

Miss Wainwright And Miss Copeland Will Sing

The oratorio will be the feature of next Monday night's musical program. These musicals are being organized, along with everything else at Sweet Briar, and Mr. Martin wants to center them about one type of music. The opera was the theme of this week's program. Mr. Martin will be assisted next week by Miss Wainwright and Elizabeth Copeland who will each give a vocal solo.

Executive Committee Named By Student Chairman

Katherine Emery, General Chairman, and Mary Shelton, Vice-Chairman of the student branch of the Campus Campaign announced the completion of the executive committee at a meeting held Monday afternoon in the campaign office in Fletcher Hall.

The executive committee follows: Virginia Van Winkle, Senior Class Chairman; Nora Lee Antrim, Junior Class Chairman; Kathryn Blake, Sophomore Class Chairman; Flora Austin, Freshman Class Chairman; Elizabeth Lankford, Chairman of Publicity; and Anna Torian, Treasurer.

Miss Glass told the committee about the needs of the college endowment and building and outlined the general plan of the nation-wide campaign.

Architect's drawings of the proposed building, the library, the gymnasium and the auditorium were shown.

"It brings the buildings, especially the gymnasium, into a concrete, near-at-hand reality," said Miss Emery. "We have had a faint idea of a new gym sometime in the distant future but to see the picture of what it will be soon gives us a new inspiration to go ahead with our part of the campaign."

The Class Chairmen are now busy enlisting captains who will organize teams to secure subscriptions. An organization of 108 workers is contemplated.

The publicity program includes a student mass meeting and an opening campaign dinner with all students and faculty present.

Dates selected for the Campus Campaign are: February 27th, 28th and 29th.

OFFICERS FOR 1928-'29 BRIAR PATCH CHOSEN

At a meeting of the Sophomore class on Wednesday, February 1st, Norvell Royer was elected Editor-in-Chief, and Gwen Olcott, Business Manager of the Briar Patch for next year.

They have already begun work on the publication of the annual, which is edited by the Junior class of each year, and have interviewed several publishers in order to lease the contract and to get the latest ideas.

The staff, also, is being thought about, and will be announced shortly.

Gwen has already had business experience for publications, since she is circulation manager of the Sweet Briar News. The Editor-in-Chief is outstanding in scholastic work, which is a necessary requirement for the director of an annual.

Amherst County Favors Sweet Briar Campaign

Amherst County plans to enter Sweet Briar's Endowment and Building Campaign. This was decided by a group of Amherst County citizens at a dinner meeting with representatives of Sweet Briar held in the Rectory Tuesday evening.

An executive committee of five composed of: Mr. Edward Meeks, chairman, Mr. Joseph R. Goodwin, Mr. Wm. Kinkle Allen, Mr. Otto L. Swann, Mr. W. W. West and Dr. Will Walker, were elected.

This committee will enlist a committee of twenty to organize the solicitation of the entire county. It is planned to synchronize the Amherst County campaign with the Campus Campaign which is to be held February 27th, 28th and 29th.

Others present at the dinner were: President Meta Glass; Mr. W. B. Dew, County Treasurer; Professor Worthington, Dr. Lucy S. Crawford, Miss Caroline L. Sparrow, Mrs. Ben P. Waller, Mrs. Thomas Whitehead, III, Mr. A. D. Watts and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blackwell.

Miss Margaret Banister, of Washington, D. C., National Chairman of the Alumnae Campaign, and Miss Katherine Emery, Chairman of the Student Campaign were also present.

The friendly relationship between the Amherst people and Sweet Briar was commented on by all present. The Amherst neighbors are proud of Sweet Briar and look forward to their participation in the campaign.

Dr. Hugh Black Will Preach At Sweet Briar

Dr. Hugh Black, professor of Theology at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will preach at Sweet Briar on Sunday, February 12th.

Dr. Black has been professor at Union Theological Seminary since 1905. He is a famous preacher and writer, who adds to the characteristic Scotch grip on religious subjects a warm and fascinating personality. He has written "The Dream of Youth," "Fetters: Culture and Restraint," "Listening to God," "The Gift of Influence," "Three Dreams," and his latest volume is, "Lest We Forget."

VARSITY WILL MEET WILLIAM & MARY IN ANNUAL BOUT

The Sweet Briar varsity basketball team will play William and Mary at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium in Lynchburg, on Saturday, at 8:15 p. m. William and Mary have held sway over their opponents for the past two years, defeating them with a margin of twenty-five points in practically every case. Sweet Briar, unfortunately, has been among the victims, so the team is looking forward to a hard game this year.

As a form of entertainment for the visitors of supper is being arranged for at Jenny's Tea Shop. The line-up will probably be as follows:

H. Gubelman — Right forward
P. McDiarmid — Left forward
J. Gibbs — Center
J. Gibbs — Side-center

H. Williams — Left guard
P. Swift — Right guard

Substitutes:

Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association To Meet Feb. 10

February 10th and 11th, the initial meeting of the Intercollegiate Press Association of the State of Virginia will be held at Farmville, where the Press Association of the Teachers' College will act as host and hostess to the representatives of the various publications of the colleges in the State. A large representation from all of the leading colleges is expected.

The object of the meeting is to advance Intercollegiate Press Work in the State of Virginia. A very interesting program has been planned, beginning with an address by Mr. J. B. Wall, President of the State Press Association, in the Junior Auditorium of the State Teachers' College, at 7:30 p. m. Friday night.

Mr. L. H. Heister, President of the North Carolina Intercollegiate Press Association; Mr. F. H. Hart, Professor of Political Science, Hamden-Sidney; Mr. E. R. Price, Professor of English, V. P. I.; and Hon. Carter W. Womely, of Richmond, will also address the meeting at various times.

The publications are requested to bring last year's volume to be lovingly given in competition. Four loving cups will be awarded to the best publications. These cups will become the property of the college by which they are won.

The publications here at Sweet Briar have not as yet decided if it will be possible to send any representatives, because of the unusual number of activities on our own campus next week-end.

Nominations Made For Head Of Student Government

At Student Government Meeting, Wednesday, February 1st, nominations for President of Student Government for 1928-29 were made.

The nominees were: Isabel North, Nora Lee Antrim, Mary Lee Shepherd, Mary Copeland, Elizabeth Tyler, and Elizabeth Lankford.

OUR "PLACE IN THE SUN."

For twenty-one years, which is a very short time in college calendar, Sweet Briar has been making her way up to a position among the leading Women's Colleges of America. Now, one united effort is needed. The success or failure of this effort depends on the students of Sweet Briar, and it must succeed!

Four things are needed before Sweet Briar will be fully established. First, an endowment fund. Every college which has over three hundred students should have a certain sum of money for the proper maintenance of the college. Sweet Briar has not yet attained this sum. Second, a larger and better equipped library is essential. Third and fourth: everyone who has seen a play given in the chapel, realizes the necessity of a larger theatre or auditorium. And who has not wished for a bigger and better gymnasium, be it during the course of basketball game or on a Saturday night?

Everyone now has an opportunity to prove her worth and show her feelings towards Sweet Briar in a fine and useful manner. We can turn our energy from wishing to acquiring. Realizing this need the students, through the Drive, have earned fifty thousand dollars in the last few years.

If every girl gives as much as she can, she will be doing her part toward the fulfillment of Sweet Briar's ideal. If any student does not feel that she can give much of her own or her parents money, there are endless ways of earning extra money. Tutoring, manicuring, hairdressing, selling food, making beds, and many other small jobs, can be done without too much effort and time and prove very profitable. Study, give, and work besides to make even more. "Give until you are happy" is a good motto.

If we all put our hearts, as well as our hands and minds, in the enterprise we can do nothing but succeed.

WHY STUDY?

Why is it that after exams a great majority of us make a firm resolve not to "crack a book" for at least a month? Perhaps the best answer to this question is that this majority gets no real pleasure from academic work. This is a case in which the converse of the statement is true, for the surest way of taking the enjoyment out of any kind of work is to put it off until the last minute.

Studying as work is assigned produces a surprising increase in time for other things. Besides this, it makes us feel more and more as if we were playing a game in which the object is to do our best. After we become interested in this game, we soon find ourselves beginning to love our work for its own sake, and get as much "kick" from the solution of a difficult problem or the writing of a paper, that at first seemed perfectly impossible, as we do from scoring a point in our favorite game, be it bridge or basketball.

Then too, keep up our work throughout the year makes the great bug-bear Exam much less terrifying. Of course it reduces greatly the amount of cramming immediately beforehand, and also, as Miss Rogers said in a talk to one of her classes at the beginning of the semester, "an exam becomes very much like a visiting team which you have to prepare to play as best you can although you do not know their particular tactics." With this attitude toward exams you find yourself looking forward to them with some eagerness mingled with the customary dread, and when they are over we are not so worn out that we want to let things slide until almost time for the next ones.

ACCEPT YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES.

When in the course of your college career you are asked to serve on this committee, or that, do not accept the office without a thought and think your duty is done when you see your name in print—Mary Jones, assistant, Stop and think: "assistant" or are you merely, perhaps subconsciously, seeking glory? Remember that the girl who asked your assistance needs it. Cooperate.

Miss Czarnomaska In Search Of A Picture

Miss Czarnomaska's printer wanted her picture to use in advertising her new book, the title of which is still a secret. Miss Czarnomaska had no recent pictures but found two which were taken some time ago, one while she was at Smith, the other while she was at the University of Cincinnati. She showed them to the "News" reporter who saw a striking likeness to the Miss Czarnomaska of today.

"But no," she said, shaking her head. "They were too young, so I sent them to town to have them aged." The reporter gasped. "How?" she inquired. "By adding deep lines and whitening the hair. But the result was unsatisfactory. The picture having merely been enlarged, so I was forced to sit for a new picture after all. The proofs are coming tomorrow," she concluded.

Miss Czarnomaska suggests this little anecdote be headed, "Miss Czarnomaska in search of a picture." in memory of "somebody or other in search of a wife." (The reporter is not up on her Bible and can't quite remember the gentleman's name.)

THE FLETCHER SISTERS ABROAD.

At the time when Indiana and her sister and brother were traveling abroad, their father owned a newspaper in Lynchburg. As they went from place to place, Indiana wrote interesting letters to her father describing the scenes they had visited and many delightful phases of their trip. Some of the choicest bits Mr. Fletcher printed in his newspaper. They made excellent feature articles, for he was sure of an active interest in the reading public concerning the adventure of the Fletcher sisters in Europe.

There was a letter, for example, written when they were in Egypt. It tells of the courageous enthusiasm of the two girls as they climbed to the top of one of the pyramids, while their brother lounged lazily and scornfully at the foot. Nobody was going to bully him into climbing one of those fool pyramids!

Perhaps the most delightful bits of description and exciting adventure were written from Spain. It was the Spain of stage-coach days, the same old-fashioned, romantic country that charmed Washington Irving into writing the tales of The Alhambra. Indiana's letters during this phase of their trip were brim full of the atmosphere of old Spain. In Madrid they saw a bull fight, and those who read her letter could picture vividly the dust and heat, the whole horror of the experience. Then there was a delightful description of a silvery fountain within a park in the same city.

The route they were following led through a rather dangerous district, a mountainous region noted as being a hotbed of bandits. Along the way they heard that a band of these robbers were going to hold up the stage-coach in which they were travelling at a certain point along the highway. When the coach made its usual stop at a wayside inn, the travelers held a consultation. They decided to keep along the accustomed road, but to start several hours early so as to be ahead of the scheduled time when they passed the point along the highway where the bandits intended to meet them. The scheme worked. They did not see a sign of the bandits, and at last reached their destination in safety, after what we judge must have been a most exciting trip.

Athletic Notes

Junior-Freshman Win First Inter-class Game

The Junior-Freshman team captured victory from the Senior-Sophomore team by the score of 41-20 in the inter-class basketball game last Friday.

From the beginning, the victors worked together better, as a team, than their opponents, though the individual play on the Senior-Sophomore team was splendid. The Junior-Freshman centers, Gibbs and Taylor, combined beautifully in keeping the ball down at their end of the field where Gubelman and Whittaker caged it time after time, Whittaker making two of her "guardless" goals. The first half ended 25-12 in favor of the younger sisters.

The second half began with Gubelman substituting for Whittaker, Gubelman for Martindale, and Olcott for Lyon. The Junior-Freshman continued their good pass-work and this quarter ended 33-16. The last quarter began, with Martindale back in for Sprout and Lyon for Olcott. 1928-'30 fought hard to the end when the whistle blew to announce the score 41-20 in favor of 1929-'31.

The line-ups were as follows:
1928-'30
Lyon Forward Gubelman
Claybrook Forward Whittaker
Kumm Center Gibbs
Stone Side center Taylor
Sprout Guard Swift
Martindale Guard H. Williams

Riding Tests Postponed On Account Of Snow.

Because of the snow and cold, riding tests could not be given the past week.

Watch the A. A. Bulletin Board for notices about these. If the weather is good they will be given this week.

As soon as the roads are better there will be some paper-chases and drag-hunts. Notices will be posted concerning these so everybody watch for them.

Miss Ruth Reynolds is going to write some articles for the "Spur," about riding here at Sweet Briar. She also wants to take some riding pictures as soon as the weather permits.

Juniors Have Third Team.

The Juniors are to be commended because they have succeeded in forming a third basketball team. Although they were defeated in their first game, their captain, Peg Bushey, feels certain that they will be victorious in all their future contests.

Junior Second Team Defeated By Sophomores.

Last night the Junior second team was defeated in a hard fought battle with the Sophomore second team.

The game was very fast ending in a score of 37-29 in favor of the Sophomores. The playing was as good as that of any first team game. Both teams had a strong offensive and weak defensive. The shooting and passing of the Sophomore forwards, Sison and Jones, stood out as being especially good.

The Juniors are to be commended because they are the first class to get out three teams in an optional year.

Mention should be made of the officials, particularly Olcott as referee, and H. Williams as umpire. Both of these girls showed that they knew their business.

Student Choir Added To Chapel Services

An innovation in the form of a Student Choir has recently been added to the daily chapel services. At a recent Student Government meeting this was decided upon as the best way to improve the singing at these services.

Each class is to be responsible for having a choir during one month. The Seniors have taken the month of February and the dignity of their dark gowns is an impressive addition to the chapel service on Tuesday and Friday noons.

Miss Dutton has kindly commended the choir. "The professor leading the service," said Miss Dutton, "feels so far from the congregation. The choir seems to bring them together."

The Juniors will provide the choir in March. The Sophomores will serve in April and the Freshmen in May.

United States to Seal Bond of Friendship With France.

A bond of peace and friendship between France and the United States, which had its beginning just 150 years ago on February 6, 1778 is to be sealed anew at the State Department on February 6th, 1928.

The new pact virtually renounces war as an instrumentality never to be called into play between the two republics.

The anniversary is not alone that of the first Franco-American treaty by means of which France came to the aid of the continental forces at the crucial moment of their history, but also of the first treaty of any character entered into by the American Government. It is the anniversary of the French revolution, any power to American nationalism as it had been asserted on July 4, 1776.

The new treaty goes far beyond the assertion of peace and friendship contained in the original covenant with France. It not only asserts that war between the two nations is unthinkable, but sets up a new and strong machinery for the adjustment by arbitration of disputes which might otherwise lead to war.

In view of the United States aloofness from former attempts to promote international peace, as well as her traditional distrust of "entangling alliances," the signing of this pact is of especial interest to the student of current history. It is also of interest in that it calls to mind the often forgotten page in our history, on which is written the story of France's very timely assistance to the struggling colonies. Had this page been different, the history of the independent colonies might never have been written.

New Paper Money To Be Ready In 1928.

Washington, Feb. 7. (AP)—The American people probably will receive their new smaller paper currency about the end of this year. Assistant Secretary Mills informed a house sub-committee during hearings on the department's appropriations.

The new currency will save the taxpayers more than $1,000,000 a year when it is in complete circulation, he asserted in describing that the smaller notes will be more durable and convenient. Already the proposed paper money is estimated to run into a saving of $787,000 for the next year's allotment for currency printing, he declared.

Another advantage, he said, will be that the new money will be more difficult for the counterfeiters to copy.

Spanish Laborers Strike Over Income Tax.

Wild disorders are reported in Catalonia over the recent levy on workers. Never in the history of Spain has a government imposed a tax on laborers' earnings, because these have been considered too small. The new income tax reaches all laborers earning ten pesetas a day, and there are a large number of these since wages have gradually advanced since the war.

Both employees and employers seem agreed that the government made a mistake in applying a new tax, in view of the fact that the national budget does not at present require additional funds.

A strict censorship has been initiated by the Spanish government, but rumors have reached the French border to the effect that fighting has broken out in several cities between workers and police. It has been reported that 2000 strikers in the town of Reus were fired on by troops. One woman was killed and a score were wounded.

The strike movement is spreading rapidly throughout the Province. Just how long it will last is problematical. It is believed, however, that the majority of the workers do not possess a financial reserve, and will have to return to work soon.

Arrangements For Dance Must Be Made By Friday

Girls wishing to attend the dance Friday night must pay their money and obtain guest cards immediately. The dance will begin at 9:30 and the tea-dance Friday afternoon will be from 4:00 to 6:00. Each girl must have a card for each of her guests to present at the door.

The customary rules which state that girls shall not go down the road beyond the couple with their dates, and also shall not sit in cars, are to be observed during the dance. Arrangements have been made for Fletcher Auditorium to be turned over to the boys. Several of the colored men will be at their service there.

The Saturday night "gym" will be only for guests from outside of Virginia.

Mrs. Thomas F. Carter Will Lecture Here

in Chinese Art from 300 to 1200 A. D."

This was the period of the "Dark Ages" of China according to the lecture, but it was followed by the age of chivalry and religious faith. The Tang dynasty as this time differed in renewed national and religious life; and with it came a period of lyric poetry and great art in sculpture and painting. Then came the Sung dynasty of mellow fruition when art became more secular and literature more philosophical.

"Decline And Stagnation." Mrs. Carter goes on to explain the "Decline and Stagnation," on February 21st, at 7:30 p. m. This covers a period from 1200 to 1650 A. D.

She tells of the political disruption and artistic culmination; the revival of the Confucian school of philosophy; the Mongol conquest; the arrival of Marco Polo, and contacts with the West; nationalism under the Ming dynasty; Art under the Ming and the Republic.

These lectures are open to the public at a cost of $5 for the course or $1 a lecture.

Beware Of February Says Dr. Harley

Dr. Harley says that the infirmity was not crowded last week as this column erroneously reported, but was filling up. The greatest number of cases in the infirmity last year was fourteen, and the capacity of the building is twenty. At present there is only one case in the infirmity, but is expected to fill up when the girls come home from the dance. February is the worst month in the year. Dr. Harley hopes the girls will try to recuperate as much as possible from exams and dances and will report all sickness promptly.

Dr. Harley has been in bed four days with a cold infection, mostly from fatigue. She is much better. Mrs. Paing has gone over to Amherst for several days rest. She has been poorly since her attack of tonsillitis.

Martha Henderson was operated on for mastoid, February 1, in Birmingham, Ala. She is doing very well. Saturday Dean Dutton saw Elizabeth Johnson who has been operated on for appendicitis in Lynchburg. She is doing very nicely.

There have been four cases of pink-eye among the waitresses since January. They have been very careful, and it has not spread to the students.
